

Mot anglais	Définition (anglais)	Traduction (français) procrastination	delaying doing something you're supposed to do	procrastination priority	something that is more important than other things	priorité minimize	reduce	réduire knuckle down	start working hard	se mettre sérieusement au travail tedious	boring	ennuyeux temptation bundling	doing two activities together: one useful + one enjoyable	associer tâche utile + activité plaisir fallacy	a mistaken belief or idea	erreur de raisonnement small talk	polite informal conversation about unimportant topics	conversation légère awkward	feeling uncomfortable or embarrassed	mal à l'aise / gênant etiquette	rules of acceptable behaviour in society	règles de politesse breaking the ice	starting a friendly conversation with someone new	briser la glace private	someone who doesn't share personal information easily	réservé rude	ill-mannered or unpleasant	impoli slipped my mind	forgot something	j'ai oublié a sector	an area of business within the economy	un secteur économique inherent	a natural and unavoidable part of something	inhérent to perform	to be successful (for a company)	réussir dominant	strongest or most common	dominant / principal to escalate	to raise something to a higher level	faire remonter / aggraver escalation	increase in intensity or seriousness	montée / aggravation to deal with	to handle or resolve a problem	gérer / résoudre awayday	a workday spent outside the office with colleagues	journée d'équipe hors bureau guru	an expert in a field	expert team building	activities to improve teamwork	activités de cohésion cerebral	intellectual, related to thinking	intellectuel intimidating	making you feel nervous or afraid	intimidant gel	to get along well with someone	bien s'entendre shake a leg	hurry up / get moving	bouge-toi bootcamp	short period of intense training	entraînement intensif callisthenics	gentle physical exercises	exercices physiques doux calligraphy	art of beautiful handwriting	calligraphie synchronise	to happen at the same time	synchroniser